NO. 7.

JOSEPH LANCASTER MISSING.

Report That the Wealthy Dawson City Merchant Had Turned Up in Denver Probably True.

Dawson, Y. T., Sept. 27.—Joseph Lancaster, a prominent Dawson merchant who disappeared from the Hotel Butler in Seattle, in August of last year is alive in Colorado. He came to the home of his sister in Denver, broken down in health and hardly recognizable. His brother, P. I. Lancaster, who is here adjusting the estate, just got the news by letter and leaves for Colorado to-day. He refuses to show the letter, but says it contains nothing of his brother's whereabouts during this long absence. His wife and mother are visiting in Seattle now. Joseph's wife lives in Oakland. It is said here that there is some mystery back of the case. The brother says the Pinkertons scoured the country for a year for the missing man.

The above dispatch was found to be without foundation so far as the statement that Joseph Lancaster had appeared in Denver is concerned. A reporter for the Denver News called at the home of Mrs. Pauline Peyton, sister of Lancaster, who lives near the Jesuit college, and Mrs. Peyton said she had no idea of her brother's whereabouts. "If he were in Denver, I am sure he would have made it known to me," she said. "To-day I received a letter from his wife, who is at Oakland, and she gives no tidings of Joseph."

"The report that he is in an asylum is a story made of the whole cloth. His daughter is now in a convent at San Jose and his son in college at Oakland. I am sure none of his relatives know aught of his whereabouts."

Joseph Lancaster, a relative of Senator Randall, of Pennsylvania, and member of a family well-known in Washington, D. C., society, disappeared August 24, 1900, being seen the last time by friends upon whom he called that evening in Seattle. It is said that he had considerable money.

His disappearance was not known for several weeks, as it was thought he had left Seattle by boat for Dawson. Lancaster was a partner of R. M. Calderhead at Dawson City, and operating steamers from there to Seattle.

P. I. Lancaster, who soon after went to Dawson to take charge of his brother's business, is well known in Goodland having lived on a ranch on the Smoky for a number of years with his sister, Mrs. Peyton. In a letter to THE REPUBLIC from Dawson a short time ago Mr. Lancaster said he would soon leave for Seattle to remain during the winter.

TOLD IN A LINE.

German surgeons say that the delicate membrane which covers the contents of an eggshell will answer as well as bits of skin from a human being to start the healing of open wounds. The discovery has already been successfully tested.

Prof. Zimmer claims that competition between men and women in male occupations must result in an enormous increase of insanity among women. He claims, among other things, that the rate of insanity of German-speaking women teachers is double that of men.

A canvasser for some charity calling at an English store, which bore the sign of Smith & Co., asked if Mr. Smith was in. "No," was the reply. "Will he be in soon?" "I don't think he will." "How long has he been out?" "About a hundred and fifty years." This illustrates the custom in England of retaining old names for mercantile houses.

At the Indian institute at Lawrence, Kan., Bob Tail Bull arrived on the same train with John Little Eyes, Benedict Shoulder Blade, Miss Emma Bear Claw, Miss Minnie Squint Eyes, Miss Laura Nice Talker and Miss Minnie Stands Up. There they found Edward Weman's Leggings, Hinton Big Leg, Miss Anna Wounded Eye, Miss Bessie Little Sun, Elmer Long Jaw, Jerome Bear Tusk, Joseph Crazy Mule, John Stands in Timber, John Pretty Bull, Hall Red Nose, Miss Clara Rolling Bull, Beans Young Bird and Miss Little White Man.

This interesting information is from the London Truth: The accouchement of the queen of the Netherlands is expected to take place in January. If five years had passed without Queen Wilhelmina giving birth to a child her marriage would have been dissolved by the Dutch parliament. The constitution of Holland also provides that if the queen has a son she is to abdicate in his favor when he reaches the age of 18, an arrangement which cannot fail to produce vexatious family squabbles and tracasseries of all kinds. What a situation it would have been at our own court if Queen Victoria had been obliged to abdicate on November 9, 1859, in favor of the Prince of Wales!

Cattle Sale.

Owing to my range being sold, I will offer at public auction at the Blue Front barn in Goodland, Saturday, October 12, commencing at one o'clock p. m., the following live stock: Five head of horses; one bull, two cows, 20 head of heifers, 44 head of spring calves. Terms of sale: All sums of $20 and under, cash in hand; all sums over that amount a credit of ten months will be given, with approved security, notes to bear interest at ten per cent. Five per cent discount for cash.

In Iceless England.

The following was told me the other day as a true story: During one of the hottest of the recent spells of hot weather, a well known baronet came across three workmen engaged on a job on his estate. One of them remarked, as workmen not unfrequently do, on the dryness of the job. The baronet, perhaps, extended itself to the baronet's temper; at any rate he turned away with the reply: "If you are thirsty you know where the well is. You will find a pail there." Thinking over his remark a little later he flashed across the baronet's mind that he had given orders for three bottles of champagne to be put into the pail and lowered into the well to cool for dinner.

He hastened to the well and discovered—three empty bottles. What he said this time is not reported.—London Truth.

Republicans Nominate Commissioners.

The republicans of the Third commission district met in convention at Kanorado Saturday and nominated J. W. Germann for county commissioner. Germann is the present incumbent of the office.

RAILROAD SPIKES.

Boiler-maker Betts has quit and left yesterday for Topeka.

Conductor George Buck was off duty this week owing to illness.

Engineer C. E. Biddison has gone to Denver to spend a few days.

Brakeman Schmitt will move his family here from Savannah, Ill.

Brakeman D. R. Linsley is in Kansas City for medical treatment.

Fireman J. A. Weir was in Denver this week to witness the carnival.

Fireman A. G. Kaulitz and family are back from an extended visit in the east.

Engineer George Fuller and wife have gone to Fairbury, Neb., for a visit.

Brakeman Kirk Walters is at Kensington, Kan., for a visit with his lady love.

Dispatcher Young and General Foreman Adams were in Colorado Springs Tuesday.

F. L. Curwin, formerly a conductor on the Pierre Marquette road, is a new brakeman.

Calboy Gene Luther is in Denver this week and George Cooper is calling in his place.

Brakeman George Schoigner and family attended the carnival at Denver this week.

Engineer Tom Kelly is taking a short vacation and is attending the carnival in Denver this week.

Special car 500 went through Tuesday night en route east with a party of Rock Island officials.

Conductor Barsby has been assigned to local freight Nos. 51 and 52 with Sunday layover at Phillipsburg.

Conductor J. W. Usher is now here running on freight. He and his family will occupy the Klauer residence.

Brakeman W. J. Murtough has quit and will go to Minnesota and engage in the mercantile business with his father.

"Dude" Case, of Norton, who until recently ran the railroad pumping station at Selden, was in town Monday.

Conductor J. N. Hazelbaker has taken the Pueblo-Phillipsburg run on 9 and 10 given up by Conductor Usher.

Engineer J. W. Pack returned from the Roswell-Pueblo run Saturday where he had been in service temporarily.

A hunting party consisting of Albrecht, Coburn, Wiley and Weir were at the Smoky Tuesday. They killed 40 ducks.

Bert Brinker, night caller of engine crews, has quit and Jim Woods has taken his place. Brinker has enrolled at school.

C. M. Morrison, formerly on passenger trains Nos. 9 and 10, has taken a position as freight brakeman out of Goodland.

A steamboat went through Tuesday night on a flat car on 97. It was one of the old pattern of stern paddle wheel river boats.

Conductor Walter Hunt is on the Roswell-Pueblo run for a few days in the place of Conductor Stevens, who is taking a layoff.

C. B. Lane, roadmaster at Phillipsburg, was in Buffalo at the time of the assassination of the president and witnessed the tragedy.

C. E. Holtz is now foreman of the round house at Council Bluffs. He was formerly with the Rock Island at Phillipsburg and Caldwell.

The Rock Island will build a new freight depot at Phillipsburg. The floor of the round house at that point will also be paved with brick.

J. A. Morris, a machinist, who has been employed in the shops for the past three months, quit Saturday and will return to his home in the east.

Operator Skinner and wife have removed to Colorado Springs. He was transferred to the Springs and his place is filled here by W. L. Ekel.

Engine 894 was turned out of the shops Wednesday after receiving light repairs. Engineer D. Hathaway took her out yesterday and broke her in.

Conductor Angus Miller, on passenger on the Limon-Denver run, will take a layoff next week to go on a hunting trip for antelope with a party in Colorado.

Round House Foreman Nick Scallion left Tuesday night for Denver to attend the carnival. Mrs. Scallion is in Denver and will return home with him the last of the week.

Engineer J. R. Morris with engine 548 made a good run Friday on second No. 6 from Genoa to Burlington, covering the distance of 67 miles in 70 minutes, including two stops.

As an evidence of increase of business, the road has put on a new caboose, No. 12,203, just out of the Horton shops. Conductor Will Taylor has been assigned to the new car.

Brakeman C. E. Craven, who was injured by being struck by a bridge in Colorado Springs, has taken an indefinite leave of absence and left Wednesday night for his home in Chattanooga, Tenn.

The machine shop is quite empty again and there were only five engines in the round house, Wednesday excepting two others being repaired as to spark arrester, which speaks of the large business on the road.

L. B. Fiske, the new dispatcher and his wife are stopping at the Depot hotel. They are originally from St. Paul but were about three years at Dubuque. Mr. Fiske was transferred to Goodland from the Dalhart, Tex., office.

Brakeman T. A. Williams was taken sick suddenly at Prairie View last Friday while coming west on 97, on Conductor Hubbard's car. His condition was so serious that Dr. Jenrunk, of Prairie View, accompanied him to Goodland. He is some better but is still confined to his room at the Hotel Ingersoll.

R. J. Jones, section foreman at Edison, accompanied by his family, left Wednesday morning for a visit to Kewanee, Ill. Mr. Jones goes there to assist in the settlement of the estate of his father who died last spring and to visit his old home and birthplace. Jones is the oldest section foreman in point of service in the employ of the Rock Island west of the river. He helped lay the track to Goodland and has been employed on this division ever since.

"The Dispatcher's Daughter," a story appearing in the September issue of the Locomotive Fireman's Magazine, has the plot laid along this division and at Goodland. The story was written by Avery C. Moore, who was a telegraph operator on this division at one time.

Charley Smith, who is at Dalhart, Tex., has adopted frontier manners. The cowboys informed Charley that if he put on togs, such as a swallowtail coat, they would cut the bird-like appendages off. He took the hint, and now wears a woolen shirt, corduroy pants, leggings, a sombrero hat and carries a "six-shooter." Poor Charley!

Engineer W. W. McLellan received a letter last week from his father who resides in Denver and speaking of the international yacht races he says that his father, Mr. McLellan's grandfather, sailed the English yacht, "Iris," in an international yacht race 53 years ago. He adds, however, that he has no desire to see the cup go to the other side of the pond. Mr. McLellan says that his grandfather was drowned soon after sailing the Iris.

Under a law enacted by the last legislature railroad employees may vote wherever they happen to be on election day. Before voting, however, they must swear that they are away from home in the discharge of their duties as railroad men. Each ballot cast by such a voter must be marked by the judges, sealed in an envelope and sent to the clerk of the county where the voter resides, to be counted. Any election judge or county clerk who gives information about how any railroad voter shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. The fine is $100 for each offense. Railroad men will vote this fall in the local elections for the first time under the new law.

Goodland the Prairie City.

Our city is making marked improvement, especially in residence property.

The improved appearance of the town may be distinctly observed in approach either by private conveyance or by rail. On returning from a trip across the county recently the writer was struck with the view of the city from a swell on the prairie some miles away and remarked that Goodland was the gem of the prairie.

Beside the outlays made by the Rock Island railroad this year amounting to several thousand dollars, there has been laid out by the citizens' owning residence property a considerable sum of money in the painting, enlarging and in various ways improving their property holdings.

THE REPUBLIC has mentioned from time to time these improvements. In consequence our town is becoming more and more attractive as a place of residence. Many of the railroad men prefer Goodland even to Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo. Traveling men make it a point to Sunday here when possible. The county high school is also drawing some to town from the country districts so as to give their children better advantages.

Goodland is all right, but there needs to be a corresponding brightening up of the business portion of town to correspond to the already mentioned betterment in the appearance. Many business fronts bear old signs of firms long ago out of business or removed. A little interest taken in this matter, a little paint, labor and expense would improve the business street very much. A little public spirit in this matter would be commendable.

Tale of a Rattlesnake.

This thrilling bit of news comes from the Whiting Journal: "A Whiting man while on his way home had an experience in the city park the other night which is very thrilling. As he was passing near the band stand he heard a strange noise. After investigating he found it to come from a large rattlesnake. It was pinioned to a log by a large limb broken from a tree. He set the snake free and went on his journey homeward unconscious that the snake was following. He sat down to supper and in picking up a spoon which he had carelessly dropped on the floor, again saw the snake. He fed it and they became fast friends. The snake would eat from his hand, wrap around his neck and hug him and sleep coiled up on the foot of his bed. This continued for a week or more. But one night the man was restless and could not sleep. He called to the snake and it did not respond as usual, so he arose lighted the lamp and began to search for his pet. He found the snake in the parlor wrapped around the neck of a burlap, and its tail hanging out of the window rattling for the police."

FALL 1901.

We are doing the largest business in our history. We have made preparations to do a big business this fall. New fall goods are coming in, and we can show you the correct goods and name prices that will interest you to buy. It surely will pay you to come in and see us.—C. M. Millisack.

Mrs. O. C. Dawson has returned from Wichita where she was called several weeks ago by the fatal illness of her sister, Mrs. T. C. Harper. She was accompanied home by her nephew, Clyde Harper, who will remain here this winter.

Bishop Millsap held divine service in the Episcopal mission chapel Friday evening at which time the ceremony of confirmation was administered to seven candidates. The sermon was on excellent one and the ceremonies were very impressive.

Rev. L. O. Housel, presiding elder of the Norton district, preached Sunday evening at the Methodist church and held communion services. The subject of his discourse was "Who Is My Neighbor?" and the subject was handled in an excellent manner.

Take Higher Degree in Masonry.

The Royal Arch degree was conferred upon James N. Fike, of Colby, J. A. Weir and Rev. J. Ed Stevens by the local Masonic lodge Tuesday night. After the initiation the Masons and the ladies of the Eastern Star sat down to an elegant supper prepared by the ladies. J. N. VanDyke, of Wilber, Neb., was in the city Tuesday and was invited by the lodge to assist in the initiation.

Odd Fellows Take in New Members.

J. W. Germann and J. K. Looney, of Kanorado, and Dr. C. W. Richards were initiated as members of the I. O. O. F. Tuesday evening. After the ceremonies the members and their families took supper at the Hartman restaurant.

Ladies' Garments.

Women's and children's cloaks and capes are now on display and are cordially invited to call and see them at Millisack's.

PASSING OF EARLY SETTLERS.

Death Takes Off Three Ex-Residents That Were Among the Pioneers in the Settlement of Sherman County.

Robert M. Kiefer Dead.

Robert M. Kiefer died at his home in Harper, Kan., Thursday, September 26, after a short illness from stomach trouble. Mr. Kiefer was 45 years of age.

Robert Kiefer came to Sherman county in 1880 and located at Voltaire, but soon moved to Goodland when this place was chosen as the county seat. He continued in business here until 1891 when he removed to Harper and engaged in the hardware business. Mr. Kiefer was a Harper councilman and a member of the Knights of Pythias and Ancient Order United Workmen, and the funeral was conducted by those societies. He leaves a wife and two children.

Mrs. J. H. Tait Dead.

Mrs. Jennie Tait, wife of Capt. J. H. Tait, died at Guthrie, Ok., last Friday afternoon. Mrs. Tait was sick only a few days but the cause of death could not be learned. Capt. Tait is said to be quite feeble.

Mr. Tait and family were among the early settlers of Sherman county, the captain being prominent in republican politics and was editor of the Sherman County Dark Horse. He was postmaster of Goodland under the Harrison administration. He left Goodland in 1895.

Death of Mrs. T. C. Harper.

Mrs. Julia Harper, wife of T. C. Harper, died at St. Francis hospital in Wichita, September 20, after an illness of several months. Mrs. Harper was suffering from tuberculosis of the bowels for which she underwent an operation in May, but this failed in relief. Interment was made at Wichita, the funeral being held from the home of her nephew, M. J. Loyd, in Wichita. Her husband, T. C. Harper, and son, Clyde, and her sister, Mrs. O. C. Dawson, of this city, were present when death came.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper came to Goodland in the 80's from Missouri, and Mr. Harper conducted a store here until about two years ago, when he closed out his business and moved to Centralia, Kan.

An Offer for Tax Titles.

County Treasurer Warner received an offer last week from Dr. L. A. Golden, of Smith Center, offering to take all the lands subject to tax deed in the southwest part of the county, providing the interest on the taxes was deducted.

The area covered by the offer is 18 miles square and it is said the charges amount to $100 on many of the quarters subject to deed. Dr. Golden has a large ranch in the southwest part of the county and evidently is desirous of securing more range. Sheep are his principal stock. The proposition will come up before the commissioners at their meeting next week.

Abundance of Feed for Stock.

During the drought the past summer it was feared that winter feed for stock in the country would be very scarce. But when the rains came on in August, the fields of millet, cane and corn that were thought to be beyond relief came on again in a remarkable manner. It is now reported on every hand that there is an abundance of feed in the county, and even a surplus over the needs of the winter season. Hay was selling in Goodland at $12 per ton during August, but it can now be had at $6 and $8 a ton. Farmers are still engaged in stacking up forage crops, and many will have a surplus to be carried over for next year.

Works of Art in Glassware.

Mrs. J. W. Pack and daughter, Blanche, returned Saturday after a visit of nearly two months spent at Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, the Buffalo exposition and Ohio towns. Mrs. Pack brought home with her some beautiful presents from her brother, who is a glass blower at Newark, O. She has a large tableful of fine glassware. Among the articles are a mammoth punch bowl and 12 goblets, a paper weight within which is blown a tablet in white supported by a wreath of pansies and on the tablet in blue is the monogram "B. of L. E." She also has a rolling pin of standard size of solid glass, and numerous other articles of glassware of unique and beautiful design. Her brother is an artist in his profession and gets $1 per hour working on an eight-hour shift. She also has three other brothers working at Bellaire, O., at the same trade.
